NOTES:

In the event the IRB receives an overflow of research protocols it will be necessary for the committee to meet another day to complete the review process of the overflow protocols.

Do not leave items blank in the Submission Form. Please provide the Board with any surveys, fliers, or other written communication to subjects. Failure to do so may result in a delay in the review process.

Research may not begin until you have received approval from the IRB. At the same time, research shall not continue beyond a stated continuing review date or one year from the date of final approval.

Dates for summer review/meetings have not been established.
