 - US History After 1865
- 2012- 2015 Director of Service- Learning & Civic Engagement
 Virginia State University; Petersburg, VA

Recruited by the President of the University to create a service- learning and civic engagement program. My responsibilities included the development, coordination, management, recordation and assessment of service, service- learning and civic engagement at the university. I supervised, trained, directed and assessed our Community Partnership Coordinator, VISTA members, and undergraduate student Peer Leaders as well as students in service- scholarship programs. My contribution to the university's faculty professional development included conducting and coordinating service- learning pedagogy workshops and managing community- based research funding opportunities. I was responsible for all grant writing, press releases, report writing, and private sector partnership proposals to support this university initiative. I established, maintained, managed, and assessed all local, national and global community partnerships that support service- learning. Housed within the University's Honors Program, I also provided administrative support to it. This duty required me to respond to and manage a number of diverse tasks while engaging different key constituents both internal and external to the institution with the ultimate goal of creating a Global Honors College. I also taught at least a three hour credit general education course on World Regional Geography each semester and a Global Studies Study Abroad course.

- 1998- 2012 Director, MountainServe Center for Global Citizenship
